

We are Crafted to Connect.
This means that everything
we invent, create, and think about is rooted in bringing people closer together. In every place. At any moment.
Welcome to FurnitureLab.

Our promise

To be the most trusted resource for furnishing the places we dine and connect.

Corporate, government, education, and healthcare environments are evolving. We see it every day. Traditional meeting spaces are giving way to relaxed dining experiences, where the vibe is more playful and people can be themselves. That's where we come in. In partnership with lead designers, we give the people what they want—uniquely crafted settings that spark meaningful interactions.

Our team is ahead of the curve on trends in dining spaces. Driven by your unique needs. Ready to deliver on command. Together, we harness industry-leading tools to plan and support the design of great dining and gathering spaces, including application ideas, pre-order renderings, and the best 10-year warranty in the industry. With chairs and tables, booths and bases, receptacles and insights, we'll ensure your dining space is Crafted to Connect.

Singularly Focused.

Fully Supported.

Always Comprehensive.

01

We put everything into the places where people dine and connect with others. This focus allows us to hone our knowledge, products, and services. At the same time, dining is not what it used to be. A place where people eat is now the place where they mingle, work, send emails, and study for tomorrow's test. We support this evolving dynamic with products, ideas, drawings, custom renderings, and best practices—everything you need to arrive at an ideal solution.

02

We stand behind everything we craft. Solutions are delivered proactively. Our team is trained to stand by your side—before, during, and after the job. We value our clients and provide a level of care that's hard to come by. Ten-year warranty, we own it.

03

For tables, chairs, booths, and waste receptacles, we're a one-stop shop. We offer a robust selection of crafted products—thousands of choices in a variety of styles, price points, materials, and finishes. In the end, your furnishings will harmonize, your creative vision will be satisfied, and your trust will be earned.

FurnitureLab

Born from a place where we connect, bond, and gather after a long day: the kitchen table.

In 1988, artist Greg Rapp and his architect wife, Bryna Rapp, were in need of a kitchen table. Using their own tools and ingenuity, the creative duo built their own. The beauty of the table was that it was the perfect platform to express their skills—architecture, woodworking, and silk-screening. More significantly, the table brought the couple closer together.

Wanting the same connection for others, Greg and Bryna turned their bedroom into a woodshop and started a business. But the turning point happened in 1991, once they moved from San Francisco to North Carolina. There, a local restaurant owner was seeking tabletops with pictures of her dogs. It occurred to the couple that a project of this scale was a perfect commercial application for their process. Soon after, Greg and Bryna met with restaurant owners, hotels, even Disney executives—all interested in the unique skills they could bring to the table.

Since then, FurnitureLab has grown substantially, added people, and won numerous awards, but it all traces back to that original kitchen table—the first piece that was ever Crafted to Connect.
